SWEPT BY BIG STORMS

EASTERN STATES DESIRED BY OLD BOREAS.

Railroads Washed Away, Wharves Flooded and Many Holdings Partially Submerged—Winter in Europe.

IN NEW ENGLAND.

New York, Jan. 12.—Tidings of storm on the New England coast and inland have been received from many points. At Birmingham, Conn., a freshet in the Housatonic river broke up the ice and swept it over meadows and under and through bridges. Three hundred feet of piling of the Derby railroad were snapped off like pipe-stems. The pier of one of the railroad-bridge spans has been taken and the iron span is tottering. Over 1,000 tons of ice must be removed before travel can be resumed. Boat-houses and barns have been floated away in the Naugatuck valley. The Derby Driving Park buildings are submerged and battered by ice. The meadows are six feet under water and losses will be considerable.

DAMAGE IN MASSACHUSETTS.

At Fall River, Mass., gales from the south piled in the waters and the wharves are flooded. Large quantities of goods have been washed away and the harbor is dotted thickly with cotton bales, casks and dry-goods boxes.
Large quantities of coal fell into the river from pockets whose sides were burst by the water.

A large pile of lumber was swept into the river and is floating about. Two schooners were blown upon Anthony's wharf. The American Print Company's works and the Metacomet mill have been compelled to shut down, the fires having been extinguished by the incoming tide.

HEAVY GALES IN MAINE.

Heavy gales and extremely high tides are reported along the Maine coast. At Cannell all the wharves were flooded and the water reached a higher point than ever before known.

At Eastport the wind reached a velocity of forty-five miles an hour, the barometer dropped lower than for many years and the tide was the highest since 1850. Wharves were covered with water and damage was done in the lumber yards near by.

In Machias the water was the highest ever known, and much damage was done to wharf property and bridges.
The worst snow-storm of the season struck Montreal Sunday night. Reports from the country say that traffic is generally impeded. All incoming trains are delayed.

WASH-OUTS IN PENNSYLVANIA.

At Allentown, Pa., rain has fallen heavily. There is a wash-out at Stauben's, on the Lehigh & Wilkes-barre railroad. At Slatington the water is in a number of houses, caused by an ice gorge at the Franklin dam. The Parryville wire-mill, Johnston & Swarz's furniture factory and the Adelaide silk mill are idle. Three hundred people are not working.

SHIPWRECK ON A REEF.

PORTLAND, Me., Jan. 12.—United States revenue steamer Woodbury at noon Monday discovered signals of distress from a shipwrecked crew on a lone rock known as "Junk of Pork," lying outside of Green Island, about five miles east of Portland Head.
A terrible sea is running. The breakers are fearful and they extend 100 yards or more outside of the rock. No boat could live for a moment once within the breakers. The vessel has been ground to atoms and six of the crew are on the rock well up out of the way of the sea. They can not be rescued until the sea goes down.

The crew have no food or shelter. The Woodbury will still darkly endeavoring to get an opportunity to lower her boats and go to the rescue of the men, but was compelled to leave them until daylight.
Dories have been procured and an attempt to reach the shipwrecked men will be made at the earliest moment.

AT CINCINNATI.

FORT MONROE, Va., Jan. 12.—The steamer City of Washington, New York for Havana, has arrived here. She encountered a cyclone off Hatteras Sunday night and had her forecastle and quarter-deck washed away. One of the crew was killed and another is missing. One of her passengers was badly injured.

WINTER ABROAD.

PARIS, Jan. 12.—The Seine and other French rivers are frozen except in the stream. At Epinal the thermometer is four degrees below zero. The harbor of Geneva is frozen over for the first time since 1830 and all navigation is stopped.

BRITAIN, Jan. 12.—On Saturday Emperor William drove in a sleigh over the River Havel to Potsdam. The ice was thirteen inches thick, and the Emperor upon arriving at Potsdam ordered the troops of the garrison, including the artillery, to turn out and exercise at crossing the ice.

The severity of the weather is causing wolves to become dangerously hungry, especially in the case of those which are beginning to infest the woods near many villages in the northern part of Hungary. Bears have appeared in the Stryan mountains.

LONDON, Jan. 12.—Throughout England intense cold weather continues to prevail. In addition dense fogs are general, but there has not been any more snow. In the Hebrides, or Western Islands, the temperature registered is 50 degrees.

The continent is still suffering from snow-storms so severe that several express trains between Hamburg, Cologne, Berlin and Vienna have been knocked up. The mails have been considerably delayed throughout Europe.

A Laborer Killed.

GALESBURG, Ill., Jan. 12.—The clay bank at the Purington Paving Brick works, east of the city, caved in and instantly killed Arthur Taylor, one of the laborers. Several others had narrow escapes.

Nebraska Still Has Two Governors.

LINCOLN, Neb., Jan. 12.—Among the bills introduced Monday was one providing for State publication of school books, one maximum freight bill and half a dozen making promissory notes non-negotiable. The session was short and interesting. The two Governors still hold the fort.

Buried Under an Avalanche.

VIENNA, Jan. 12.—An avalanche on Monday crashed down the mountains near Lione, in Bosnia, the snow crushing many houses and burying their occupants in the ruins. Many of the inhabitants were killed and a large number injured.

EMMA ABBOTT'S WILL.

She Directs That Her Body Be Cremated and Makes Many Charitable Bequests.

New York, Jan. 12.—The will of Emma Abbott Wetherell was on Monday admitted to probate. It was executed May 28, 1890, at the Marlborough Hotel in this city. Miss Abbott begins her will with directions as to the disposal of her body. "I direct that my body," are her instructions, "having been first tested by electricity to ascertain if life is extinct, shall be cremated and the ashes resulting therefrom be deposited beside the remains of my beloved husband."

She directs the executors to place on deposit $100,000 in the Farmers' Loan & Trust Company and from the income to pay $400 monthly to her father, Seth Abbott. A like sum is also to be placed in the United States Trust Company with directions to pay from that a like monthly income of $400 to her mother, Mrs. Almira M. Abbott. To Leon H.
Abbott, George H. Abbott and Frank Abbott, brothers, she leaves $25,000 each, to Mrs. Lizzie Abbott Clark $25,- 000, and to the children of Leon and George H. and Mrs. Clark $5,000 each.
Closing her will Miss Abbott remembers various churches and charitable institutions. Her legacies to the churches she prefaces by stating that they are made to "churches that I have attended from time to time and where I have particularly enjoyed the music." These legacies are $5,000 each to the following churches: Plymouth Church, the Brooklyn Tabernacle, Madison Avenue Baptist Church, Fourth Avenue Presbyterian Church, Church of the Divine Paternity, Citadel Square Baptist Church, Charleston, S. C.; Rose Hill Methodist Episcopal Church, New York; and St. Luke's Methodist Episcopal Church.

The residue of her estate is to be divided share and share alike among the following: Foundling asylum of the Sisters of Charity, Children's Aid Society for the support of the new boys' lodging house; Home of the Friendless of Newark, N. J.; Chapin Home for the Aged and Infirm; House of Mercy, in East Forty-eighth street; St. John's Guild for Excursions for Mothers and Children in Summer; Ho-brew Benevolent Society; Sanitarium for Hebrew Children; Mrs. S. V. White, of Brooklyn, and Mrs. Sarah Bird, a friend of Mrs. White. She hopes these ladies will use their shares in charity. All of Miss Abbott's music, opera scores and private papers are bequeathed to the Cafferty, of Jersey City, who also receives $5,000. Her diamonds and jewelry are given to the executors with the direction that they be sold and the proceeds to form a part of the estate. The will contains a forfeiture clause against contestants.

A CONGRESSMAN RESIGNS.

Representative McCarthy, of the Sixth New York District, Accepts a Judgeship.

New York, Jan. 12.—Congressman John Henry McCarthy, representative of the Sixth New York district, has resigned his seat at Washington to accept a place on the city court bench. Governor Hill has just appointed him to fill the vacancy caused by Judge McAdams' retirement to the Superior Court. Mr.
McCarthy's term as Congressman lasts only a little over seven weeks more, so there will be no special election held to fill the vacancy caused by his retirement.

Tanner Challenges Sued.

CLINTON, Mo., Jan. 12.—Dr. H. S.
Tanner, the man who was famous so long for having fasted forty days, now lives on a farm eighteen miles southwest of this city. He now challenges Signor Succi to sit down with him in Chicago during the world's fair to test the matter in a ninety days' fast on water only, or, if Succi prefers, let the fast continue from day to day till one or the other yields the contest.

Kansas Officers Sworn In.

TOPEKA, Kan., Jan. 12.—Contrary to all precedent in Kansas, the inauguration of the newly elected State officers was unattended with the usual ceremonies. There was no inaugural ball, no festivities, no speeches. The officers elect simply assembled at noon in the office of the Secretary of State, took the oath of office and entered upon possession of their respective offices.

Oregon's Legislature.

SALEM, Ore., Jan. 12.—The sixteenth biennial session of the Oregon State Legislature convened at noon. The Legislature stands on joint ballot: Republicans, 64; Democrats, 35, and will elect a successor to United States Senator Mitchell, who will probably be returned as he has no apparent opposition.

son living on Long Island has just died at Flushing Monday morning. She was Mrs. Rachel Stillwaggon and was 105 years and almost four months old.

A BIG FIRM GOES DOWN.

FAILURE OF A LONDON COM-PANY OF CONTRACTORS.

The J. E. and M. Clark Company fails for $9,000,000—Their Assets, Although Having a Face Value of $5,000,- 000 Are Nearly Worthless.

LONDON, Jan. 12.—[Special.]—Reports today indicate the failure of the J. E. and M. Clark & Company, railroad contractors. The crash has caused great uneasiness in the stock market. The nominal assets of the company are placed at 1,000,000 pounds, and the liabilities at 400,000 pounds. The assets, however, consist largely of South American bonds on which it will be very difficult to raise money. The company are among the heaviest railway contractors in the country, and have been building roads in South America.

THE OHIO SCANDAL.

A Report Finally Made on the Ballot-Box Forgery.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—The report of the ballot-box committee, which last session made an extensive investigation into Ohio political affairs in connection with alleged subscriptions by members of Congress of stock in a patent ballot-box, was on Monday presented to the House by Mr. Mason (Ill.), the chairman of the investigating committee of five. The main report, which is signed by all the members of the committee, finds that the alleged contract was prepared by Richard G.
Wood, an Illinois resident, who was forfeited; that the forgeries were committed by R. G. Wood; Frank and L. Milward and Frank S. Davis were the forgers, but that Wood was the only one who had any evil intent, the others merely aiding him in his accommodation, at his request, that Wood's motive was to secure Governor Foraker's recommendation of himself for appointment as smoke inspector of the city of Cincinnati. The report says further:

"We further find that J. B. Foraker and Must Halstead aided in uttering said forged papers by exhibiting the paper to several persons and thereafter delivering it to Mr.
Halstead, and Mr. Halstead, in turn, uttered the forged paper by publishing the forged paper on October 4, 1888, in the Cincinnati Commercial Gazette, but we find that said paper was not the work of Foraker and Halstead, in uttering said paper the same was a forgery."

"We find that no one of the persons whose names appear on said alleged contract had or has, either directly or indirectly, any unlawful, corrupt or improper or any other connection with or interest in the ballot-box which are said to be the subject of said alleged contract; and there never was any other contract relating to said ballot-box in which either of these persons alone or jointly with others was in any way interested."

"The supplementary report, signed by all the members of the committee except Chairman Mason, reports the following additional findings:

"We think that the conduct of Wood during the negotiations with Governor Foraker, and during the execution of the agreement, disclosed his depravity."

"We also believe that a careful scrutiny of the face of the forged paper must have shown its false character. The high stations attained in public affairs and in public confidence by the persons whose names were forged should have suggested verification of the corrupt paper before it was uttered or published. Information as to its real character was near and easy of access, as disclosed by the report of the committee."

"The publication of the false paper in the Commercial Gazette showing Mr. Campbell's name and suppressing all other signatures was almost as bad as the original fabrication of the paper. It was a spoliation of evidence. The entire incident the committee has been instructed to investigate is an example of political frauds deserving the condemnation of all parties and all good citizens."

Mr. Mason, in a minority report, says that he can not agree with the additional finding of his colleagues, and says:

"Being deceived is the only offense of Messrs.
Halstead and Foraker. They each have made reputation and character equal perhaps to that of the gentlemen who were outraged by the forgery. Since they found they were deceived they have done all in their power as honorable men to make amends to the public. The forgery was a political fraud, and I do not think the evidence does not warrant the censure indulged in by my associates and the censure of their above additional findings, against such additional findings I most respectfully but most earnestly protest."

THE SEABEES CONTROVERSY.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—A motion has been made in the Supreme Court by James H. Choate, of New York, representing the Canadian government, for a writ of prohibition declaring that the District Court of Alaska had no jurisdiction in the case of the sealing schooner Laymond, seized by United States authorities in Alaska, the vessel having been taken outside of the customary three marine leagues.

This motion creates quite a surprise in Congressional and diplomatic circles, as it is considered to be a coup d'etat on the part of Great Britain for the purpose of bringing the entire question of the jurisdiction of the United States in the Behring sea before the highest legal tribunal in the United States, and thus force that court to define the position of the country on this important subject.

IN CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—Senator Quay (Pa.) has introduced in the Senate a substitute to the Federal election bill.
The principal point of difference is in the last section of the bill which is as follows:

"When it shall appear to the satisfaction of the President of the United States that (in any locality) the provisions of this law can not otherwise be executed it shall be his duty and he is hereby empowered to suspend there the writ of habeas corpus and to employ the armed forces of the United States, naval and military, for its enforcement and for the protection of the officers whose duties are herein provided for."

The rest of the session was devoted to a discussion of the financial bill.

The House adopted a resolution providing for a special committee of five members to investigate the alleged connection of members of Congress in silver pools and to inquire into the ownership of the 12,000,000 ounces of silver bullion which the United States is asked to purchase.

Mr. Rockwell (Mass.) reported the diplomatic and consular appropriation bill and it was placed upon the calendar. The House then (after some sparing) to the limitation of general appropriations, which was finally fixed at one hour and a half went into committee of the whole, Mr. Dingley (Me.) in the chair, for the consideration of the army appropriation bill.

Mr. Bland (Mo.) offered an amendment providing that nothing of the appropriation for the pay of the army shall be paid to officers called to State colleges and ins-

FIVE SAVED BY A DOG.

THE WOODRUFF FAMILY'S ESCAPE FROM A FIERY DEATH.

They Are Awakened at 2 O'clock, a. m., to Find Their Home in Flames; and Have Barely Time to Escape in Their Night Clothes.

The barking of a faithful setter dog saved five lives at the burning of George Woodruff's house early this morning. Those who were enabled to escape were Mrs. Woodruff, her three children and the servant girl.

The barking of the dog aroused Mrs. Woodruff. She smelled smoke and immediately woke up the children. She called to the girl but received no answer. Smoke had already filled the hall way and Mrs. Woodruff found the domestic lying in a semi-unconscious condition. The girl was aroused only by hard work. Then the party felt their way to the front door through the blinding smoke and reached the open air. They were dressed only in their night clothes, but the home of L. H. Becker is but a few steps north of the burning house and after pounding on the door for some minutes they succeeded in awakening Mr. Becker.

After letting them in Mr. Becker hurried to O. D. Rowe's home which is situated across the street, and awakened Mr. Rowe and L. V. Price. Then Frank Sherer was aroused, and Mr. Becker started for the alarm box at the buckle factory.

Before he reached the corner the bell rang, Harry Robinson, who lives near, having turned in an alarm from the box at the corner of Mineral Point avenue and Washington street.

Before awakening the neighbors Mr. Becker tried to get into the burning building, but was driven back by the smoke which rolled out the front door in clouds. This was the door through which Mrs. Woodruff and her precious charge had escaped but five minutes before.

Not until the fire department arrived could access to the house be gained. Only after a stream had been thrown into a front window, dispelling the smoke, could a human being enter the building. With sponges in their mouths the firemen dashed through the door-way, only to be met by a forced retreat, with one of their number overpowered and helpless from breathing the suffocating vapor.

Another attempt was made and the magnificent piano, valued at six hundred dollars was pushed out into the hall, and finally carried into the yard.

The house was one mass of flames when the department arrived, the whole rear portion being on fire and the blaze coming out of the roof. It burned like tinder, and despite the fact that four powerful streams were playing upon it with the full force of direct pressure from the water works system, it continued to burn. Until 6 o'clock the firemen, encased in solid ice, fought the fire and contested for every inch of ground. Then the light died down and the exhausted firemen heard the welcome signal of "fire out."

It was some time after, when the hose was all taken up and the men returned to their homes.

The fire police did heroic service. They were everywhere that anybody could go. Harry Merrill and T. H. Mount were holding a stream on the roof when the chimney fell from a part of the building ten feet above them. Both men heard the crash that dislodged the chimney and braced themselves in the darkness to meet the blow. The masses of brick fell on all sides of two intrepid men.

"I was struck on the hip," said Mr. Merrill this morning. "It threw me backward and I thought for a minute I would go off the roof. A scaling ladder lay where I could fall across it or I think I would have gone."

Mr. Merrill was picked up almost unconscious, and was carried to the ground. Restoratives were applied, and half an hour later he was able to resume work with the fire police. The roof on which the police stood was sinking, but they held their position. The men of the paid companies had a similar experience. The roof was of tar, and burned beneath their feet like tinder. For an hour two heavy streams played upon the roof without making any apparent difference. The fire would seem to be extinguished in one spot, but no sooner would the streams be turned in another direction than the flames would break up again. Thus it was for over an hour, when the men were finally ordered to the ground.

Firemen say that it was the worst fire to fight since the old Wisconsin soap factory was burned at the corner of River and Pleasant streets.

The burned building was situated at 209 North Jackson street, and was one of the finest dwelling houses in the city. It was built some years ago, and was owned by H. S. Woodruff, who, before removing to Buckleton stock farm, resided there.

"It was not over five minutes from the time that Mrs. Woodruff awakened me that I tried to go into the front door of the house," said L. H. Becker this morning. "The smoke was coming out in clouds—rolling out as it would from a smoke stack. When Mrs. Woodruff called me, I thought at first that the dog owned house was on fire. It seems to me that the dog barked as he probably saved their lives."

Not a thing was saved with the exception of the piano. All the furniture and clothing was destroyed, and had it not been for the dog, there would have been a tragic chapter to add to the story of financial loss. The poor beast that gave the warning could not be saved, though his almost human cries were heard long after the department reached the spot.

The fire was undoubtedly caused by a defective flue. Mrs. Woodruff was up quite late in the evening, and frequently heard a sound as though something was dropping between the sheathing and the plastering. She thought nothing of it at the time and finally retired. In all probability the fire had been gradually working upward toward the roof. Earlier in the evening Nicholas Delzer, foreman of the buckle factory, had been up to the house, and fixed the heating boiler for the night. There was nothing wrong then. This morning after the fire, Fred Woodruff inspected the boiler, and found the draft all closed and properly regulated. The building was insured for $4,000 with Siles Hayner, and the loss on the building is placed at $5,000. The contents were valued at $1800 and are a total loss with no insurance. Mr. Woodruff was in Chicago but reached home this noon in response to a telegram informing him of the fire.

Several lengths of hose were broken during the fire.

Even when the roof burned away under them the firemen stuck to their work.

The night was intensely cold and the firemen suffered much. Their coats soon wet through and then froze. When the roof was burning beneath H. E. Merrill and T. H. Mount the Babcock extinguisher proved very convenient. The new hose wagon proved to be a valuable acquisition to the fire department. All the hose as well as the hook and ladder were in use.

After fighting for three hours, Will Farmer and Harry Merrill had to climb through a cellar window into three feet and a half of icy water, to secure a gas meter.

Will E. Evenen barely missed being crushed under the chimney that struck H. E. Merrill and T. H. Mount. He was on the ground and the brick fell all around him.

500 AT WORK IN LEAF.

Janesville Warehouses Filled With Throngs of "sorters."

The work of sorting tobacco at the warehouses in this city has put new life in the market. Most of the warehouses are filled with hands, and by the middle of the week all will be in full operation when five hundred hands will be employed in sorting the weed.

Considerable tobacco has already been delivered and many loads have been brought in to-day. It is expected the week will see large quantities of the crop delivered. Warehouse men have ceased riding and now only purchase by sample. The market is not as active as during the two weeks previous to the holidays, and prices, if anything, are a shade lower, yet good tobacco finds a ready purchaser at the highest prices.

"Tobacco is not sorting out as good as we anticipated," remarked one of our local dealers. "The per cent of our local dealers is much lower than any of us figured. This is true with all who have purchased the '90 crop. The growers are beginning to bring in the tobacco that was sold a few weeks ago, and are getting the money. Live times ought to follow the distribution of most large sums of money in Rock county, and no doubt other lines of trade will soon feel the benefits of the extra life in this season's tobacco trade."

"Most of the sorters in the tobacco warehouses are girls, only a few boys among them. The girls are much better sorters than the boys. They pay more attention to their work, and are preferred on that account."

Sales of seed leaf tobacco in New York, reported by J. B. Gans' Son, tobacco broker, for the week ending January 12, are:

140 cases, crop of 1889, New England Havana, at 18 to 40 cents.
100 cases, crop of 1889, State Havana at 18 1/2 to 20 cents.
300 cases, crop of 1889, Zimmers Spanish, at 18 to 20 cents.
200 cases, crop of 1889, Dutch, at 22 1/2 to 24 cents.
300 cases, crop of 1889, Pennsylvania Seed Leaf, at 14 1/2 cents.
200 cases, crop of 1889, Pennsylvania Havana, at 18 to 20 cents.
120 cases, crop of 1889, Pennsylvania Seed Leaf, at 9 to 13 cents.
Total, 1810 cases.

WANTED A $200 BOUNTY

A JANESVILLE VOLUNTEER'S 30-YEAR-OLD CLAIM.

Other Common Council Notes—City Attorney Doe's Resignation Not Accepted—Two New School Houses—Bills For Police Service.

The council last evening instructed the board of education to secure plans and specifications for a four room school building, as authorized by the report of the building committee of the board of education, the plan and specifications so prepared to be suitable for the other buildings asked for.

But besides caring for the future, the council took a glance at the past.

A communication was read from L. H. Mead, of Shell Lake, Washburn county, inquiring concerning the bounty of $200 offered by the city in 1859 and '64. The inquiry was made in behalf of a soldier named George Westerman, who enlisted in this city. The communication was referred to the judiciary committee.

City Attorney Doe stated that John Pratt had engaged counsel and would sue the city for damages, his horse having been broken through a culvert near J. C. Kohli's. His horse was injured, and his harness and buggy damaged, causing an outlay to Mr. Pratt of about $25. He had always been willing to compromise with the city, but he was now willing to compromise for $50. City Attorney Doe advised the city to settle the one at $50. The matter was referred to the judiciary committee.

City Attorney Doe made a brief statement to the effect that owing to the fact that his law partner, George G. Sutherland, Esq., had recently purchased the Griffith property on the river, together with his recent appointment to the office of adjutant general he felt it his duty to tender his resignation as city attorney. Alder Vackir moved that the resignation be not accepted, which motion was adopted unanimously.

The matter of paying J. B. Collins for the regrading of Sinclair street was ordered reconsidered. Mr. Collins claims that 3,587 yards of dirt were removed, while the city surveyor reported only 3,200, payment being made on the strength of his report.

The bills of Wallace Oochrane for $9 and of M. J. Conroy for $9, as watchmen at the Sisters' fair, and around Third ward residence, were again presented. It was explained that the men had been detained by Marshal Hogan. It was insisted that the marshal had no power to appoint deputies at the expense of the city and the bills were not allowed, all the council voting "No" except Aldermen Horn and McLean.

Bills were allowed against the various funds as follows:

General fund, $104.75
Highway and bridges, 40.00
Clerk, 40.00
City Engineer, 14.00
First ward, 12.84
Second ward, 12.84
Third ward, 12.84
Fourth ward, 12.84
Total, $132.10

COUNCIL ROOM NOTES.

P. W. Ryan was paid $225 for part of the grading on Prospect avenue.

Aldermen Rowe and Horn were made a committee to secure the names of dependent soldiers, who deserved aid from the county.

Complaint was made that the street lamps were not properly cleaned. Steps were taken to have the state of affairs improved.

Ex-Sheriff Babcock's bill of $103.60 for boarding city prisoners from January 18, 1890, to January 5, 1891, was left in the hands of the finance committee.

The First Presbyterian society was given permission to erect a brick-veneered structure, 115-feet long, 64 feet wide and 45 feet high at the corner of Jackson and West streets, Aldermen Horn voting "No" on the ground that such a building would not conform to the fire ordinances.

BRODER SISTERS LOSE.

THE VERDICT FOR DR. PALMER AFFIRMED.

The Supreme Court Hold That the Doctor Was Prosecuted Maliciously—Opinion in the Case Handed Down in Madison To-day.

In the case of Henry Palmer against Alice Broder, the supreme court this morning handed down an opinion affirming the judgment of the court below in favor of Dr. Palmer.

The action was brought in the circuit court for this county, the cause of action being malicious prosecution. The action was removed by the defendant to the circuit court for Walworth county, and there tried by Judge Winslow. The case was argued in the supreme court by E. Hyzer and William Smith for Dr. Palmer, and by Colonel Viles for the appellant.

Dr. Palmer was arrested on the complaint of the Broder sisters, of Beloit, for making a post mortem examination of the body of Paul Broder, their brother, who they alleged was murdered. The examination was made by order of the coroner, and at the request of the sisters, and the arrest, some five years later, was because Dr. Palmer kept in his possession, by order of the coroner, the fragment of the skull that showed evidence of injury.

The doctor was immediately released on examination, and commenced action against the parties for malicious prosecution.

MAKES ANIGY DEATH TRAP.

R. J. Richardson Writes of the Corn Exchange Drinking Fountain.

Editor Gazette.—Not the old pump, but new drinking fountain, is the cause of the ice piling up to inclined angle of about 30 degrees. This is inevitable from the fact that the fountain constantly spatters over the basin. Commissioner Hanthorn is persistent and consistent in urging owners and agents to keep obstructions off walks. He is the recognized agent of the owner, and as agent of his principal, it would be well for him to come and see me. From present indications, I can be found at my home, 353 Court street, for many days yet.
